

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES:

VOCABULARY

convention:	a large meeting or conference compromise:	a deal made between different parties where each party gives up part of their demands in order to reach an agreement delegate:	an individual elected by others to represent them at a gathering framer:	a person who shapes a plan or an idea census:	an official count or survey of a population in which details about the population are recorded